

Email networks for Headingley residents since 2004

Headingley.org runs email networks for residents - one for the Cardigan Triangle and one for the whole of Headingley. Thousands of supportive and positive messages are exchanged every year. The aim is community self-reliance, so it's fine to ask for, and offer, help. You are welcome to join this long-standing conversation. You can join either or both networks.

The networks support relationships in the real world, so residents register with their real names. Messages are not displayed to non-members. To read further details and to join, go to www.headingley.org.

Let's have physical distancing and social solidarity. If you are already a member, please spread the word so that nobody has to be out of touch.

Please print and distribute
Headingley.org is supported by Headingley Network

Email networks for Headingley residents since 2004

Headingley.org runs email networks for residents - one for the Cardigan Triangle and one for the whole of Headingley. Thousands of supportive and positive messages are exchanged every year. The aim is community self-reliance, so it's fine to ask for, and offer, help. You are welcome to join this long-standing conversation. You can join either or both networks.

The networks support relationships in the real world, so residents register with their real names. Messages are not displayed to non-members. To read further details and to join, go to www.headingley.org.

Let's have physical distancing and social solidarity. If you are already a member, please spread the word so that nobody has to be out of touch.

Please print and distribute
Headingley.org is supported by Headingley Network